Report on DNB Research programme 2018

In line with the DNB Research Agenda, the DNB Research programme 2018 had seven themes:

1. Effects of unconventional monetary policies
2. The new normal for monetary policy
3. Dynamics of inflation
4. Credit supply
5. Financial stability and financial regulation
6. Sustainability
7. Payments and market infrastructures

All projects are available at: https://www.dnb.nl/en/binaries/Research%20Program%202018_tcm47-378086.pdf.

Appendix 1 provides an overview of the status of the projects included in the 2018 DNB research programme.

Table 1 summarizes the progress made on individual projects. In 2018 5 (out of 80) projects were stopped for various reasons, mostly due to lack of sufficient results or the fact that some researchers have left DNB. In 2019, 43 projects of the research programme 2018 will be continued. This rather high number reflects that the 2018 programme was finalized last year at a very late stage in view of the new procedure to determine the DNB annual research programmes (see below).

For forecasting purposes, extensive use has been made of DELFI – our macro model of the Dutch economy (see https://www.dnb.nl/en/news/dnb-publications/economische-ramingen/index.jsp). In 2018 a new, extended version – DELFI 2.0 – has been put into use. DELFI 2.0 includes detailed sub-models of both the banking and pension sectors, offering an elaborate framework for analysing the linkages between the financial sector and the real economy (see https://www.dnb.nl/en/onderzoek-2/econometric-models-of-dnb/delfi-a-model-of-the-dutch-economy/index.jsp).

DELFI has also been used extensively in 2018 for other policy purposes than forecasting:

- DELFI has been used to gauge the possible impact of Brexit on the Dutch economy.
- The model has been used to quantitatively investigate the possible impact on the Dutch economy of the new Basel accord (updated assessment).
• The model has been utilized to assess the impact of adjustments to the pension system on the Dutch economy.
• DELFI has been employed to assess the impact of raising the loan-to-income ratio on the housing market.
• DELFI has been used to investigate whether the impact of changes in interest rates on the Dutch economy in a low interest rate environment differs from that in a high interest rate environment.
• DELFI has been employed to quantify the possible impact of higher house prices or lower government spending on the outlook for the Dutch economy.
• The model has been used to gauge the impact of a CO2-tax on the Dutch economy.

In 2018 38 DNB working papers have been published, compared to 27 in 2017. Working papers can be downloaded at:

Appendix 2 provides an overview. DNB Working papers are available in REPEC and are also included in SSRN, which has increased the number of downloads substantially; see:

Table 2 provides an overview of publications in international journals, while table 3 summarizes the number of books and contributions to books. All published and forthcoming articles in journals and books and book contributions can be found at the DNB website:

sometimes takes very long before papers are published, acceptances in a particular year and publications in that same year do not coincide. The number of acceptances in A-rated journal in 2018 is 6. Papers written by DNB staff have been accepted in the American Economic Review, the Economic Journal, the Review of Economics and Statistics, and the Journal of Money, Credit and Banking (3). Also, the number of papers that have been accepted in B-rated journals is very promising.

- Nr. 8: *The price of transition: an analysis of the economic implications of carbon tax*ing by Gerbert Hebbink, Laurien Berkvens, Maurice Bun, Henk van Kerkhoff, Juho Koistinen, Guido Schotten and Ad Stokman

In 2018 the DNB Visiting Scholar Programme was able to attract several excellent scholars who gave seminars and/or policy lectures and interacted with DNB staff. Table 4 gives an overview of the visiting scholars who visited DNB in 2018.

Table 4. Visiting scholars 2018
In 2018 the following conferences and workshops have been organized or hosted:

- 24-25 May 2018: The housing market in major cities

- 25-26 June 2018: Annual International Journal of Central Banking Research Conference (hosted by De Nederlandsche Bank)

- 5-6 July 2018: 6th International Conference: Corporate Governance in Emerging Markets (hosted by De Nederlandsche Bank)

- 12-13 November 2018: 21th Annual DNB Research Conference “Unclogging the credit channel”

- 07 December 2018: EMU Expert Meeting

Details about these conferences are available at: http://www.dnb.nl/en/onderzoek-2/test-conferences/index.jsp.

In 2018 there were 29 seminars by external speakers (see Appendix 3) and about 30 seminars by internal speakers. All seminars are announced at the website of DNB and are frequently attended by DNB policy makers and external visitors.

An important ambition is to increase the interaction and synergy of research and policy. Several initiatives have been taken. First, each quarter the management team (MT) of the Division Economic Policy and Research assesses the policy relevance of DNB Working Papers (on a scale of one to five) and the extent to which policy notes have incorporated insights of (DNB) research. Working Papers should at least score 3.5. This objective is also included in the annual performance review targets for researchers. Second, in 2018 several project teams of policymakers and researchers worked on important topics, such as income distribution, energy transition, and monetary policy (inflation dynamics, low interest environment, and the future of asset purchase programs). Third, the “Regiegroep Onderzoek”, consisting of several directors of policy divisions, approved the so-called research agenda, which outlines the main issues for research in the near future. This research agenda will form the basis for the annual research programmes for the next years. The annual research programmes also need approval by the regiegroep.
Appendix 1. Research projects 2018

1. Effects of unconventional monetary policies

1. QE and stock market bubbles Tom Hudepohl, Ryan van Lamoen and Nander de Vette
   Status: will be continued in 2019.
